

HAUNT

Complexity Simple

Survival DC 30 (expert) to notice sudden twinges of unnatural hunger

Description As the PCs investigate this room, they begin experiencing subtle twinges of hunger. Without much more warning, those twinges erupt into full-blown pangs of painful starvation and unholy urges to feast on their companions. While these hunger pangs pass quickly, the damage to the mind is more persistent.

Disable DC 30 Deception (trained) to convincingly mimic eating something substantial, or DC 30 Survival (trained) to quickly retrieve and eat something before the hunger pangs escalate. Anyone actually eating when the haunt triggers is immune.

Plenty of meat on those bones (Necromancy, Occult)

Trigger 2 creatures stay in this room for more than a round

Effect When the hunger pangs strike, all characters in the room must make DC 34 Fortitude saves to resist being affected as though by a 6th level Feast of Ashes spell, and taking a days starvation damage immediately (5d4) and becomes fatigued from the sudden phantom hunger. Accompanying this ravenous sensation is the conviction that only the flesh of the other PCs can sate the hunger. Any character who took starvation damage must then make a DC 34 Will save to resist becoming clumsy 1, enfeebled 1, and stupefied 1 as the cannibal urgings overwhelm the PC and drive him to the brink of madness. The hunger and conditions persist only as long as they stay in the room.
